

Table of contents

Argument for the second edition, in English	7
Foreword.....	9
Chapter I. Introduction.....	17
Chapter II. Anomy, deviance, delinquency, socialization, socialization deficit, resocialization.....	31
Chapter III. Criminality as a social phenomenon and possible answers for the public policies of the probation institution	45
Chapter IV. The judiciary system as a decision factor for penal policies and social practice.....	53
Chapter V. Custodial versus community sanctions.....	68
Chapter VI. European regulations and institutions on Probation	90
Chapter VII. Prison between traditional and modern management of the criminality phenomenon	98
Chapter VIII. Probation – a form of social work for justice	108

Chapter IX. Probation, social space and community safety.....	135
Chapter X. Probation institutions and the new criminal reglementations	149
Chapter XI. Legislative and institutional construction of the probation institution.....	186
Chapter XII. Factors that influence the effectiveness of probation	208
References	223
Annex	229