

Content

| | |
|--|-----------|
| I. Across boundaries. Individuals on the move..... | 7 |
| II. Theoretical perspectives on identity and migration | 13 |
| Identity and social identity..... | 14 |
| Identity and migration | 17 |
| III. Migration in communities: Seaca and Păunești..... | 25 |
| Networks in migration..... | 26 |
| Types of individuals, types of networks. | 28 |
| From Romania to Spain | 30 |
| Migration in Seaca | 33 |
| Patterns and networks in international work migration | 42 |
| 1. Migration using informal channels/resources | 42 |
| 2. Contract-based circulatory migration | 47 |
| Păunești | 48 |
| Conclusions..... | 53 |
| IV. Stories of Alterity in Migration | 57 |
| Theoretical Foundations and Methodological Prescriptions | 57 |
| Narratives of Difference..... | 60 |
| A Constructivist Exercise | 61 |
| Conclusions..... | 66 |
| V. Telling Stories of Migration: Individual Narratives of Departing and Returning | 69 |
| The Choice in the First Place..... | 70 |
| The Coming Back..... | 73 |
| Ambiguity, Dynamics and the Future..... | 76 |
| Conclusions..... | 79 |

| | |
|--|----------------|
| VI. The Other at Home. Narratives of Difference and Migration..... | 81 |
| General context, data and claims | 82 |
| Sameness and differentiation | 85 |
| Conclusions..... | 90 |
| VII. Ethnicity across borders | 93 |
| Theoretical perspectives on ethnicity | 94 |
| Being Roma, labeling Roma..... | 99 |
| Visibility and consistency..... | 102 |
| Patterns of spending remittances | 102 |
| Ethnic relocations..... | 102 |
| Networks as non-communicating entities | 104 |
| Discourses and variance | 105 |
| Romanians and Roma identity | 105 |
| Roma, attributions and perceptions | 107 |
| Conclusions..... | 108 |
| VIII. Religious orientation, migration and identity construction..... | 111 |
| Migration in the community. Lay accounts | 113 |
| Migration and migrants in narratives | 113 |
| Constructing differences: religion and migration | 119 |
| Religion in the “here-there” system of references | 121 |
| Conclusions..... | 128 |
| IX. Epilogue | 131 |
| References | 135 |
| Annex 1 - Methodological details..... | 145 |
| Annex 2 – Interview excerpts’ translation..... | 149 |